Other awards including a French government medal, letters and certificates in music, baseball, track, and Blue and Gold plus awards for Camera Club and Latin were also given at this time.

Soon after closing the assembly by singing the class ode, the seniors headed for Thompson Lake in Otisfield, Maine, for their annual class picnic.

The Alumni Banquet was held Saturday, June 8, at 12:30 P.M. in the William Bingham Gymnasium; Reverend John Foster of Melrose, Massachusetts, was the guest speaker. This was followed by the yearly baseball game, alumni versus the Varsity baseball team.

After a long day, the music of the Gordon Howe orchestra was a welcome sound to many. This event, the Commencement Ball, was the highlight of the day.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday morning, June 9, at 10:30 A.M. in the Congregational Church with the sermon delivered by Dr. Percy L. Vernon of Lewiston, Maine.

At 2:30 P.M. Sunday afternoon, the seniors marched from Hanscom Hall onto the William Bingham Gymnasium Mall to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance for the first graduation to be held outdoors in many years.

With the Juniors

The junior class is the largest this year with over 80 students. We have many outstanding boys and girls, each contributing to the activities here at Gould. The boys representing our class have made an excellent record in both football and cross-country, and we know they will continue to do so in the future. Many girls have been elected to the Blue and Gold teams.

Our A. A. skit, receiving second prize, was the best one presented by us yet.

During football season, our class was right there to cheer our team on, and at the rallies we usually had one of the loudest cheering sections.

The class of '59 made a fine showing in the events of class competition which includes the snow sculptures.

Last fall the following were elected as class officers:

Kirk Newsom	President
Fred Dallinger	Vice-president
Mary Jasper	Secretary
Judy Watson	Treasurer

In our search for a topic this year, we have decided to use the titles of songs which seem to correspond to members of our class. We hope that all the juniors will agree with us.

With the Sophomores

This year, the sophomore class boasts seventy members from which the following officers were chosen:

President	Peter Wheeler
Vice President	Susan Saunders
Secretary	Susan Martin
Treasurer	Dorothy Kimball

If present inclinations are any clue to the future lives of our sophomore classmates, then this will be a bird's eye look into 1970:

Robert Allen might be postmaster in the modern Bethel Post Office.

Peter Anderson will break all Olympic skiing records.

Barbara Angevine will be the president of the world's largest Lovelorn Society.

Donald Angevine will have discovered that a cross country course has no end.

Sam Appleton will be skiing down the endless slopes of a distant resort.

Bradley Barker will be the first clown that will wear no costume or make-up.

As the secretary in her husband's office, Carolyn Bean will be able to keep tabs on him.

Malco!m Bennett will operate a well established lumber mill.

No longer a "Future Homemaker" but a "Present Homemaker", Sylvia Benson will have her own home and family.

Edward Bernier will be flying high in the sky in Air Force blue.

Beverly Blake is going to write serials for T.V., radio and maybe a successful movie script or two.

Anne Brown will make her own version of Webster's old dictionary from her store of knowledge.

Beth Brown is going to cruise around the world many times in her own ship with specially picked friends.

David Burnham is going to own a garage and sell antique autos.

Edith Chase and Betty Swan are going to live next door so that they may still be always seen together.

Gloria Childs will be traveling with an opera company around the world.

Stanley Clark will be fixing the plumbing at Holden Hall.

Sandra Cole is very interested in doctors (or is it their near relatives?) and the interest will have grown considerably.

Alberta Coolidge will be the U. S. ambassador to France because of her fluent French.

Wayne Corkum will be known afar for his clever mechanical drawings.

Charlotte Crockett is going to have an orphanage where all sweet homeless children can go.

Leslie Davis will own her own art studio and give lessons to highly talented students.

George Elliot will own Radio City.

James Everett will find that professional tumbling is far more involved than it appears.

Charles Eypper will have discovered a bacteria that causes those study hall blues.

John Foster will ride in cars much larger than today's.

Jerry Freeman will have little time for girls.

Richard Graves will be working on John Foster's car in a grease pit.

Fred and George Haines will own the largest dairy farm in the state.

Judy Harrington is going to move permanently to Bryant Pond and live happily ever after.

Mike Hathaway will be rhythmically tapping his foot in time with the well-known Big Mike's Band.

Mary Jo Head is going to be a torch singer and spend hours answering fan mail and use gallons of ink autographing her pictures.

John Hill will be managing the famous Rochester Royals.

Patricia Hill will be journeying to many far away places to meet all her pen pals.

Peter Karpowich will discover the usefulness of first year French while on a skiing trip in Europe.

Perhaps Llona Keniston will be the second vice president of the Kleenex Company and send a few to Bethel.

A large homelike hotel will be owned by Dorothy Kimball so that she can observe and write a book about human nature.

One of the best known fashion experts and beauty editors in New York will be Gloria Kneeland.

Sandra Lapham will form America's largest Women's Softball League.

John Luke will build boats for those voyages that he takes.

As an official of a large tobacco company, David Marsh will find that his occupation is somewhat easier than riding a Camel across the Sahara.

A wealthy and handsome Texan is going to be seen a lot with a pretty deb, Sue Martin.

Davis McCann is going to operate a growth center where short people can be made taller.

Dwight Merrill will own an interstate bus line.

Edwin Mitchell will operate a ferry service from Matinicus to the mainland.

Barbara Mundt will be faithfully studying at four leading colleges.

Tim Race, Douglas Rice, Pete Wheeler, Steve Watson, and David Stowell will have formed the Backcourt Five, New England's outstanding basketball team.

Kenneth Ring will discover that small people are made to fit the tight spots in life.

Donna Smith will join an African safari and capture several wild animals and bring them back to Bethel to add some color to it.

The 1970 Woman's Olympics will be won by Susan Saunders as well as the "World's Most Charming Athlete" title.

Janet Smith is going to be the wife of a basketball hero and travel through Europe on good will tours.

Lawrence Sprague will enjoy the life of Northwest Bethel's first mayor.

Kent Taylor will be patiently listening to the endless complaints of impatient patients and wonder why he ever got into such a mess.

Roger Tibbetts will be sanding down bird's eye maple furniture.

Designer John Todd will plan an aircraft carrier after the sleek lines of his flattop haircut.

Judy Verrill will be the private secretary of the Elvis Presley of tomorrow.

Charlotte Westleigh is going to be a comedienne on a well known T.V. show "What's My Line."

Steve Wheeler will be known around his office as the "late" Mr. Wheeler.

Famous storyteller Benjamin White will have written several books.

Crystle Witter is going to carry on hour long conversations with the outer space men.

Lillian Wilson will be a professor at the University of Maine.

Stanley Wilson and Loren Young will, oddly enough, successfully run a fireworks store.

In Hollywood we will find Pamela Young, with her own Beauty Shoppe, busily designing new hair styles for promising young actresses.

If any of these predictions prove false, we are willed to hide our heads in shame, but this is the way we think that things might work out. If these students become one half as famous as they seem to be, we are very proud to have known them all.

With the Freshmen

The freshman class consists of 72 students. The class officers are:

President	Arthur Lincoln
Vice-President	Louise Kennedy
Secretary	Mary Willard
Treasurer	Peter Stowell

With all the news heard pertaining to space satellites and rockets, we decided to take each individual characteristic and predict what each student's first thought or saying would be if he or she landed on another planet.

SANDRA ALLEN — "Let's stay here till they find out about schools."

STEVEN ALUISY — "Girls, I'm here."

HILDA ANDREWS — "I won't even go steady up here!"

CHRISTEN ANGEVINE — "Hurray! The nearest school is one million light years away."

JAY BALANO — "Do you dig cat talk?"

JAMES BARTLETT — "I like their version of Play Boy magazine."

TIRZAH BEAN — "Now that we are here, let's go Bob-bing back."

JAMES BENNETT — "That trip caused space dust to fill up my trombone."

KENNARD BENNETT — "Who was that weird looking girl I saw you out with?"

- RICHARD BENNETT — "If there is another Dennis Grenier in your shop classes, I'm leaving."
- ROMA BENNETT — "Any Saturday night dances here?"
- ERIC BERGESON — "Let's go to the hop, the space hop that is."
- JUANITA BERNIER — "I must be dreaming."
- CLAIRE BERRY — "Take me as I am or send me back."
- CAROL BILDERBACK — "What! No gymnasium?"
- LINDA BROWN — "It looks like they could use a homemaker here!"
- MARIJANE BROWN — "I always said all things would come to those who wait."
- SARA BURNS — "Isn't it beautiful!"
- CYNTHIA BURRIS — "This isn't even enough to straighten out my hair!"
- WILLIAM CALL — "Where can I buy unbreakable space skis?"
- CAROLYN CHAPMAN — "I've found a place where there isn't any school!"
- MARIANNE CHASE — "Oh, I'm stabbed with laughter!"
- JEAN COREY — "That's the way the ball bounces, and the space-ship rumbles."
- RONALD COULOMBE — "Quit pushing, I got here first."
- DAVID DAVIS — "Any Norway girls here?"
- TAMARRA DAYE — "Match me with a good dancer."
- FREDERICK DESROCHES — "I got here on science fact, and they quickly sent me back."
- GLORIA DURAN — "Oh, I forgot my books."
- LINDON FELT — "If you can't lick them, join them."
- HERBERT FERRIS — "I wasn't at the bottom of this."
- LORENDA FREEMAN — "I may be out of the world, but I'm still in fashion."
- JOY FULLER — "Why did we come here? The earth was good enough."
- FREDA GAMMON — "I'm a small package, but I made it."
- DENNIS GRENIER — "My brain can finally have its rest."
- RUPERT GROVER — "I wonder why these creatures haven't muscles like mine?"
- DEBORAH HAMMOND — "I made it without being sick."
- LINDA HATCH — "This is no place to be calm and quiet!"
- DOROTHY HOAG — "ALL that studying has affected me!"
- JEFFREY HUTCHINS — "Did you hear about the time I - - ?"
- ELIZABETH JACKSON — "While everyone is recovering, perhaps I can get a word in."
- JOHN KELLEY — "My nose was big, too."
- LOUISE KENNEDY — "I fly now but my fingers used to."
- PHYLLIS KIMBALL — "I always said that plugging away would win the day."
- BETTY LOU KORHONEN — "If you see me coming, step aside."
- ELIZABETH KRZYWICKI — "Dig that crazy landing."
- MELVINA LEARNED — "We're here, so why worry about it?"
- LOUISE LINCOLN — "I don't mind not having ports, as long as there's sports."
- SANDRA MASON — "Do they have safety pins here?"
- VIRGINIA MASON — "Here I am with a friendly glance and a cheery word for all."
- NIKKI McMILLIN — "Any news for the Blue and Gold?"
- HELEN MILLER — "Did any of my spitballs reach here?"
- STANLEY MOORE — "I've got some things to sell. Any suckers present?"
- GEORGE MORSE — "If you say so, I'll agree."
- LINDA MORTON — "Protect me for I'm small."
- DAVID MYERS — "Wherever I look, I see teachers."
- JEFFERY NEWSOM — "Do all space men have crew-cuts?"
- PAMELA PERKINS — "Friends, Romans, Space-men, lend me thy ears!"
- RICHARD RAMAGE — "Girls, girls everywhere, to talk to them I do not dare."
- DONALD RICE — "Here I feel ten feet tall."
- DONNA RICE — "This has something on Bethel!"
- MERRY ANN RING — "That nearly knocked IMPOSSIBLE back into my dictionary."
- SUSAN ROCK — "For PETE'S sake!"
- DAVID SALWAY — "Now I can cough in space."

EVELYN STEVENS — "Any restrictions here?"

PETER STOWELL — "I didn't get here on my dry humor."

KATHLEEN TWITCHELL — "I said I'd try anything once!"

PAMELA TYLER — "Is life all labor here?"

JEAN WATERHOUSE — "Keep moving. Let's find out what's beyond."

MARY WILLARD — "Come on, Merry, let's go see what we can dig up!"

RICHARD YORK — "Studying gets you everywhere, but I wish it didn't."

Gehring Hall

Sunday night study hours are held in Gehring Hall, a welcome practice after the busy week-end. As we walk quietly down the apparently-deserted halls, it is evident that not every minute is being spent using the "study hours" for what the term implies.

Starting on third hall in the alley occupied by four girls, we find Hilda Andrews cleaning out her desk drawers. The pile of treasures signifies that this should have been done ages ago! Walking into the next room, we find it vacant, but as we step across the hall, we find Eleanor Kimball and Patsy Probst industriously working on their assignments in order that they won't have to rise at 4:30 A. M.! Leaving this alley, we see Bev Back trying new hair styles while conjugating Latin verbs.

Out on the main hall, we spy Dottie Hoag mopping the floor of her room, hoping the dust under the bed doesn't show. Debbie Hammond looks on patiently while attempting to keep her feet out of the flying dustmop's way.

Next is the room of Ella Stevens and Helen Miller; knowing them, we aren't surprised to find Ella using her bed as a trampoline while Helen, De Mille II, shoots a movie of these antics.

Hearing no noise from the next room, one might surmise that Freda Gammon and Betty Krzywicki are studying, but no — Freda is engrossed in a Little Lulu comic, hiding it behind her science book, and Betty is setting the dial of her short-wave radio at the best spot for receiving her favorite station.

Lively Louise Kennedy and Sally Burns, are somewhat subdued tonight, but we find them studying while draped upside down over the backs of their chairs. What next!

When a loud giggle erupts from room 4, we know that Dede McCann is present. Sure enough, in here we see her in gales of laughter pulling Sue Martin's bed apart. Sue serenely surveys the wreckage and continues working on her geometry.

Across the hall Beth Brown is showing Gail Gorab a fancy dance step; a determined Gail is slowly mastering the tricky footwork.

After a struggle with the barricaded door, we enter the den of Pam Perkins and Sandra Allen to find the latter slaving over her books but accomplishing little as she listens attentively to the tale of Pam's latest escape.

Upon entering the domain of Bilderback and Hill, we are greeted with an agonizing plea from Carol for more heat. Pat emerges from behind the door where trapped while attempting to sneak down the hall on some unknown venture.

Leaving these two, we step across the hall to see what Janet Smith and Sandra Cole are up to. Janet is inspecting her short-sheeted bed and wondering "who dunit" while Sandy looks on with wide-eyed innocence and much amusement.

The next room has a lone occupant—Sue Badgley—at the moment looking very bored with this state of affairs. It seems her roommate, Nancy Buckminster, has pulled proctor duty, but be assured if she were present, the joint would be jumping!

At the end of the hall, live Laurel MacPherson and Janice Hague, listening to the wind whistling by their window. Laurie asks if winter will ever end, and Janice gaily assures her that much skiing is still in store.

Jean Corey and Sue Rock, next in line, are found on their beds pretending to study, but, Sue, do you always read with your book upside down? And, Jean, are you sure Bonjour Tristesse is acceptable for a book report?

On to second hall and the juniors and seniors!

Down Senior Alley, occupied by five seniors and one privileged junior, we find Heath Sandbach and Roz Liston having a heated argument about Abigail (Heath's hamster) which is at the moment running loose, bothering Roz who is trying to concentrate on chemistry. Heath, ever loyal, sees no reason for Roz's pique.

Next door we find Debbie Mason and D. J. Bigos also having a private argument, neither can remember whose turn it is to sleep on the top bunk, an undesired privilege in their eyes. Making our exit, we're halted by the voices of Peg Luke and Nancy Gray. Peg, muttering in undertones, glares at her trig; Nancy is seated on the bed unsuccessfully trying to arrange her hair differently. In the corner room, Sue Dennison gazes longing at her bed but doggedly continues cracking the books; Margie Huse sits on the floor choosing pictures for her cluttered bulletin board.

Next door live Jo Makepeace and Kathi Hubbard; as we enter, Jo cautiously pushes the letters she is writing out of sight, and Kathi, smothered in a quilt, groans that she is slowly freezing and wishes the room were a few degrees warmer.

Continuing our tour, we're nearly bowled over by the sight which greets us next. Mimi "Comanche" Ashcraft is hoping to please the sun gods with her lively dance while Judy Brown leans against the desk, overcome by laughter at this spectacle.

Across the hall, Connie Chase sits at her desk, an open book before her, but an open box of food is getting more attention. Her roommate leans over to help Sue Merrill do her math, a hard task since Sue is under the bed!

When we enter the room of Sylvia Johnson and Pat Philbrook, a pillow whizzes past and enters the room opposite. Finding these two engrossed in a pillow fight, we make a hurried exit before being pulled into the hassle.

Going to retrieve the pillow, we find Anita Morel softly "sawing wood" on her bed, surrounded by forgotten books.

Pat Joslin and Edie Stevens are busy as usual; Pat is pacing the floor trying to remember her part, and Edie, exhausted from the exertion of cleaning the room, is sprawled on her bed.

Janie Coffin and Sharon Bedell are next; Sharon is counting the days until vacation, and Janie is heckling her by "helping."

Joan Fox and Joan Smith, both studying, are caught off guard! Foxie, buried in a book which is due for a report and with four hundred pages to go, is given an understanding glance by a sympathetic Joan.

Mary Jasper and Sue Appleton are entertaining each other with tales of weekend activities, Sue practicing a tricky ski turn in the middle of the floor.

The occupants of the last corner room are quiet tonight. Peg Deland, tilted back in her chair, surveys her work of art which adorns the wall. Judy Watson offers a frank opinion of the artistic(?) display.

And, finally, Sally Webber is rummaging in her desk for some candids to add to her gallery while Meredith Bennett, gazing out the window, wishes herself far away.

Although all these girls might not be book worms, they're tops and certainly add to life in Gehring Hall.

SARA AULT, '58

Holden Hall and Farnsworth House

Well, fellow Gouldites, here we are, ready for our annual excursion through the fascinating realms of Holden Hall. Mid-year examinations have just ended, and now everyone is looking forward to the summer vacation.

As we enter the golden portals of our beloved home, we are nearly mowed down by Bob Weston who is being hotly pursued by a book-wielding Harley Griffin.

Passing the door which opens into the living room, we see Dick Graves and John Hill lounging comfortably in their chairs watching their favorite T. V. program "Woody Woodpecker". Their motto is always "On to higher education," right boys?

Leaving this scene of contentment, we take a sharp left down to the far end of the alley where we hear the sound of voices. Entering Stanley Clark's room, we find Stan, Ben White, John Luke, and John Todd arguing about the best places to ski. Ben favors Farmington while John Todd and Stan are for Bridgton. Luke says he's too tired to care!

Coming out of the alley, we hear the familiar sound of pool ball hitting pool ball accompanied by the regular groans and shouts of glee. Upon entering the pool-room, we see Dave Marsh, Jay Balano, and Steve Aluisy watching for the masterful shot which Pete Karpowich says he is about to make.

Heading up the hall a bit, we hear the familiar laughter of Steve Watson, and soon we find that Tim Race is demonstrating the art of jump-shooting with a lampshade, much to the amusement of Greg Shapiro who is standing in the doorway. Greg just recently joined us. Nice to have you aboard, Greg.

Now it is time to head for the upper realms of Holden, which happens to be forbidden territory to the freshman. As we reach the top of the stairs, we hear Pete Nichols threatening to pound Steve Yeaton down into Mr. Scott's room if he doesn't comply with his wishes. Yeech!

As we take a few more steps down the hall, the aroma of coffee is picked up by our noses. We soon find that Ed Mitchell and Gil Peterson are enjoying some of Gil's "home-brewed" coffee. Smells good, Gil!

Two rooms below Gil is the Holden Hall Radio Station. Here, George Elliot broadcasts to the dorm over his improvised radio set. As we enter the studio of station WGE, we see Dave Hobson and Newton Ferris standing around George as he plays records and makes comments over his network.

Continuing down the line a bit, we find quite a gathering in Al Ordway and Bill Black's room. Bill's attempting to show Jim Hill the art of doing trigonometry (and I do mean art) while Reg Roberts and Al are trying to convince each other that the Air Force is better than the Navy, and vice versa. Meanwhile, Larry Bragg and Norm Buttrick are trying quite unsuccessfully to bop to the singing (?) of Bill Ide.

Now, of course, Holden Hall wouldn't be Holden Hall without the sweet rhythm of Willie and his drums floating about. Yes, Bill Taillon is in his room trying to keep up with his idol, Gene Krupa. How we fight, Willie!

As we mosey along down the alley, our first stop is the room of Steve Karpowich and Gary Aluisy. Here we find Gary telling his enthralled audience of Steve, Guy Whitten, Bill Gallagher, and Kirk Newsom how he once hog-tied a ferocious fieldmouse—singlehandedly!

Leaving this rather "thick" atmosphere, we go down to the far end of the alley where we find Royden Ward, Steve Smith, Norm Gardner, Ricky Cummins, and Holly Cotton attempting to harmonize into Royden's tape-recorder. Well, you've got to give them credit for trying!

Coming back up the line, we find Linwood Small wrestling with Fred Dallinger in Fred's room, while John Vinton calmly sits by reading Time magazine and expounding his theory every once in a while to Walter Tibbets who is watching the bout.

Now that we have completed our tour upstairs, it's off to the buttroom, which is in a corner of the basement. Here we find Jon Day, Whitney Austin, and John Bergeson arguing about the picture of the camel on Whit's package of cigarettes. John says it's an Asian camel while Whit and Jon argue that it is definitely an African camel.

We now leave Holden Hall by the back door, nearly bumping into Bob Allen, our mailman, as we do, and walk about two hundred feet to Farnsworth House which is inhabited by freshmen only. (Not you, Mr. Berry!)

Bill Call is telling John Kelley just how to go about breaking skiis, while Jeff Newsom is trying to sell Jim Ferris a broken bamboo ski pole.

This winds up our brief but eventful excursion through the boys' dormitories for 1958.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council

In its thirteenth year as an organization, the Student Council is continuing to maintain its reputation as one of the finest groups in the school. In co-operation with their faculty advisors, Mr. Brewster and Miss Heal, the members, chosen from the student body, try to work out, to the advantage of everyone, various problems concerning the school.

Also, the Student Council carries out such tasks as sponsoring the fund-raising for charities, furnishing programs for the morning assemblies, choosing the cheerleaders, selecting the ushers for evening programs, and selling tickets at athletic events. The Christmas Formal and Parents' Day are two of the most important events that the Student Council sponsors.

The money raised by the Council is spent for authorized activities if the Council approves. Its approval is also necessary before a portion of the Student Activity Fee is used for non-budgeted sums.

The officers, who were elected last fall, are as follows: President, Alan Ordway; Vice President, Heath Sandbach; Secretary, Sara Ault; and Treasurer, Richard Grover.

The Student Council is represented on the Athletic Council by a member selected for this position. This year's representative is Alan Ordway.

The promotion of school spirit and understanding between the faculty and the student body is the main objective of the Council. Therefore, it should be considered an honor to be a member of this fine organization.

The Blue and Gold

The Blue and Gold, a monthly publication which deals with current school activities and events, has been in existence for seventeen years under the auspices of Mr. David Thompson. Articles written by members of the staff are compiled into the Blue and Gold newspaper on the average of every four weeks. Students who are not affiliated with the journalistic end of the paper may express opinions and viewpoints on various topics through editorials, devoted to pertinent interscholastic matters.

Issues of the Blue and Gold find their way not only to the hands of the present student body but are circulated to other parts of New England under a specified exchange system. This year the exchange editor has made arrangements with twenty other high schools for mailing copies of school papers regularly each month on a reciprocal basis. The alumnae editor sends out seventeen issues to former Gouldites, fifteen of which were members of the Class of '57. However, a new program of accepting yearly subscriptions from parents was introduced for the first time this fall and has proved to be extremely effective.

Under the excellent management of Heath Sandbach and Herbert Morton, co-editors of the Blue and Gold, several new additions have been made to the fundamental framework. A "Poet's Corner" in which any student's original work of a poetic nature may appear has been a recent newcomer, as well as a column entitled "Klass Kapers". Included are specific activities and programs in which each class participates.

The Blue and Gold staff wishes to express its deep appreciation for the fine co-operation that has been received from Mr. Foster's Camera Club and Carl Brown, our printer. The sports pictures and those concerned with the seasonal events along with the diligent job of printing contribute greatly to the quality of every issue.

We also extend our sincere thanks and gratitude to Mr. David Thompson for his constant patience and encouragement in dealing with the preparation of each series of the Blue and Gold.

Musical Activities

This year the William Rogers Chapman Club started auditions for membership early in the fall in order to prepare for a concert in early March. The concert was rather unique, carrying the theme of "Mediterranean Music" and dealing with Italian, Spanish-Latin, and French melodies and rhythms. The group has excellent talent and has functioned well as a club. This year W.R.C.C. music pins were provided for all members.

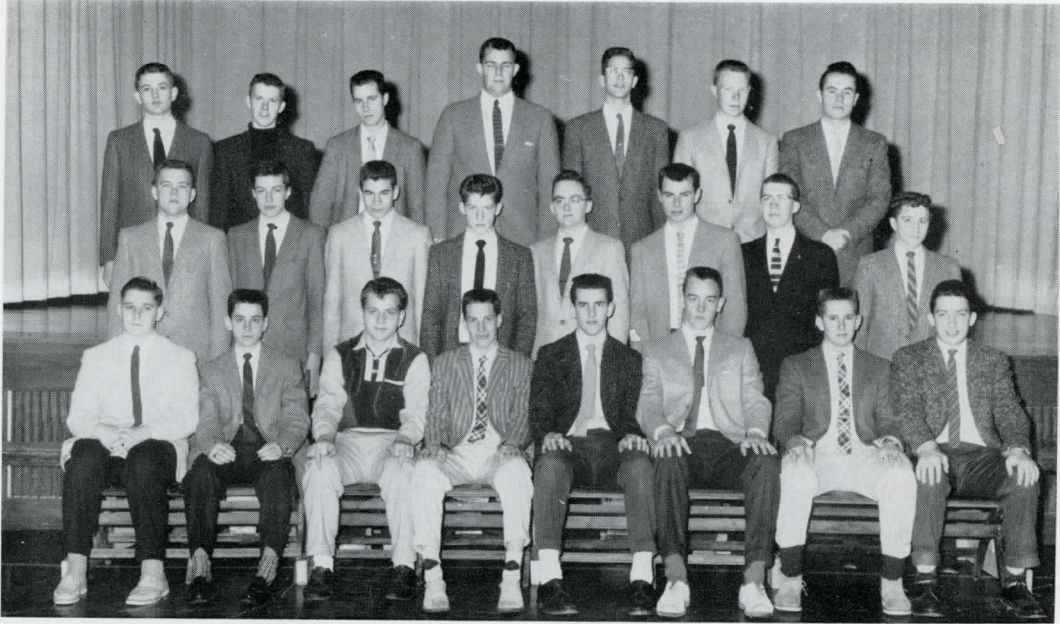

The four glee clubs, the Freshman-Sophomore Girls, Junior-Senior Girls, Boys' Glee Club and the Varsity Chorus, as always contributed much to occasions such as Parents' Day, Spring Concert, the June Graduation Exercises; and they sang beautifully at the Christmas Vespers, a church candlelight service which was re-broadcast over WRUM in Rumford, Maine.

The Gould Band grew in number and added zest to the football games in the autumn and basketball games in the winter. In the spring our band participated in the May concert and later marched in the Memorial Day parade. The band also visited Rumford, Maine, to attend a Marine Band Concert.

These organizations have worked in earnest to keep the musical standards high at Gould. Mr. Walter Marcuse, our music director, receives our gratitude for excellent and exacting leadership.

French Club

The officers for the French Club for 1957-1958 were: President, Rosalind Liston; Vice-President, Sara Ault; Secretary, Susan Merrill; and Treasurer, William Gallagher.

The meetings have been many and varied. The members enjoyed programs ranging from the lusty singing of French Christmas Carols and other songs and hearing the results played back on the tape recorder, to listening to Miss Kimball and Mr. Weninger give talks and show slides of Europe.

At Christmastime the members celebrated with a party, exchanging gifts with appropriate verses attached and enjoying refreshments.

The annual French Club party based on the theme, "April In Paris," was the main event of the year for the club. The members spent much time and effort in planning and putting on this gala event with its Parisian atmosphere.

The ever popular spring picnic with the singing, exploring of the woods, and cooking out was a suitable climax to the year's activities.

Many thanks to Mr. Auger and Mr. Gagnon for their advice and assistance in making the club's projects successful.

SUE MERRILL, '58

Ceramics

For the third successive year, an art group can be seen trouping to Holden Hall, commonly known as the boys' dorm, every Monday night. Although boys can try their hand at molding objects of beauty, it is doubtful that many have ever been seen at it. However, the girls gather in groups of about ten. The instructors are Mrs. Bowhay and Mrs. Brewster.

Ash trays are quite numerous in the basement room where the classes take place as new inexperienced students are required to make one as their first project. The first thing that is done when starting a project is to dig one's long fingernails into a nice, sticky mound of clay and throw the estimated amount required on the floor to get the excess water out of it. Now the artist is ready to start rolling it flat and start the molding. It takes only one session to form the ash tray. It is then left until the next week to dry when it can be painted with whatever pattern the sculptor wishes. After it has been painted, it has to dry for three weeks before the first firing in the kiln. Then it is glazed and fired again. At last it is ready to take home. The owner pays a small fee and carries out the prize.

A vote of thanks is in order to the instructors who have given so generously of themselves and their time.

Camera Club

During the past decade or so, photography as a hobby has become exceedingly popular with all ages in all walks of life. It follows, then, that where you find people who have a common interest, you usually find clubs; and photography is no exception to this. The Gould Camera Club, established some sixteen years ago, provides an opportunity for the discovery of many thrills of picture-taking for those who are interested, whether they be novices or semi-professionals.

In the course of the school year, the club usually meets on alternate Tuesdays, with smaller group meetings during each week for the purpose of carrying out or demonstrating some particular phase of their work. Early last fall the old members cast ballots at the first meeting and selected the following officers for this school year: President, Herbert Morton; Vice President, Stanley Fuller; Secretary, Marjorie Morton; Treasurer, Jon Day. The theme of each meeting could be based on any branch of photography from lenses and filters down to night pictures. This theme is exemplified by movies, slide talks by members, and/or demonstrations by the club's competent advisor, Mr. Gayle A. Foster.

Members of the club have access to two well-furnished darkrooms, one in Holden Hall, used by all members, and the other in Gehring Hall, reserved for the female gender in the club. Typical equipment in the darkroom includes an enlarger, developing facilities for both films and prints, print dryer, and etc. to mention a few. In addition to making their own prints, the members also get a chance to learn by working in a group to fill large orders for pictures. For doing this they receive free prints as well as valuable knowledge. Also, various types of films, papers, chemicals, and other supplies can be purchased through the club at great discounts.

Apart from the activities of its individual members, the club also furnishes pictures for the Blue and Gold, parts of the Herald, and, every so often, to various newspapers in the area. Realizing that many people want material for their scrapbooks, the club takes prints and sells pictures of the many big events that go on at Gould during the school year, notably the various formals, dorm parties, Carnival events, etc.

Toward the end of the year, preparations are begun for the Annual Show, which is held during the last week of school up to and including graduation. In this show outstanding prints by professionals and both present and past members are shown. A hearty welcome is extended to all to come in and see what a fine job the club has done and is doing.

In summary, many thanks are extended to Mr. Foster, the officers, and the members for making this a very successful year.

Future Homemakers of America

One of Gould's well-known organizations, the F. H. A., had a successful and interesting year. Last spring the following officers were elected at a candlelight initiation service:

President	Judy Brown
Vice-President	Alberta Rugg
Secretary	Nancy Davis
Treasurer	Meredith Bennett
Historian	Sylvia Benson
Parliamentarian	Ruth Stevens
Reporter	Sandra Lapham
Song Leader	Evelyn Winslow

In November we were the hostesses for the annual District E meeting where we were privileged to have Evelyn Winslow elected chairman of District E for next year. Ruth Stevens served as secretary for the district for this past year.

Monthly meetings were held under the able leadership of our president and adviser, Miss Whitney. At one of the meetings we had as guest speaker, Shirley Bartlett, who showed slides and gave a talk on England. Weekly meetings were held in each class under chairman Dixie-Lee Brown for freshman, Sandra Lapham for sophomores, Nancy Davis for juniors, and Barbara Plummer for seniors. The homemakers have participated in quite a few activities this year. Gifts were prepared and clothes mended for needy families at Christmas. Work was done on associating ourselves with the role of homemakers. Group discussions were held on personal problems. Ideas were suggested for personal and family recreation. A costumes closet was organized for the dramatics department as a school project.

Handbook Committee

As a freshman or newcomer to Gould, were you bewildered and often in doubt about just what to do and where to go? This year, thanks to Rosalind Liston's ingenuity and enthusiasm, a committee of juniors and seniors, five boys and five girls from each class, was chosen to compose the students' handbook.

The purpose of this useful guide is to acquaint all new students and freshmen with the functions of the school enabling not only them but also the older pupils to know their school and what it stands for.

This small book should be helpful in solving many problems and difficulties which confront the newcomer. In this guide will be found: the educational and social objectives of Gould; a list of the teachers and their degrees; the school colors, motto and seal; the daily schedule; a floor plan of the building; study habits; a general conduct code; the procedures for fire drills and air raids; lunch hour gym activities; girls' and boys' sports programs; a brief explanation of the various organizations and the qualifications for membership; the method of marking; interpretation of ranks and effort marks; the requirements for the Honor Roll and National Honor Society; the awards given in June; and the guidance facilities.

It is the sincere hope of all involved that this publication will aid students in becoming a part of Gould Academy.

SUE MERRILL, '58

Dramatics

One of the most rewarding experiences for an individual at Gould is taking part in the dramatic presentations and knowing that one has put his sincere efforts into them to turn out the inevitable successes. Despite the fact that we do not have an active organization for this activity, the one-act plays and the senior play never fail to intrigue the student body, all of whom either try out for acting parts, volunteer their efforts backstage or simply attend the productions accompanied by many friends and acquaintances.

The first of the one-act plays on February 19 was a comedy, "Champagne Sec," involving a middle-aged married couple (Sue Merrill and Mark Freeman) who are about to celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. They are indulging in a brief champagne toast when the neighborly sheriff (George Elliot) calls on them to offer his congratulations. At the next ring of the doorbell, Mark's first wife (Pat Joslin), believed dead for many years, makes her entrance. Confusion reigns when the honest husband tries to convince the sheriff, weaving about after four or five toasts, that he must be taken to jail on a charge of bigamy. As the curtain falls, two wives can be seen merrily waving good-bye to their husband, as he is led, handcuffed, out the door.

The second play was "The Case of the Crushed Petunias," a fantasy of a young woman (Dawne Christie), owner of Simple Notions, Inc., who is confronted by a young man (Steve Yeaton), a salesman for Life, Inc. After admitting the crime of crushing her prize bed of petunias the previous night, this young man proceeds to convince her that she is not living life to the utmost, but merely existing in her own private world consisting of a limited stock of goods to sell in her store and the influential Boston culture. He finally succeeds in making a date to meet her near a dark cemetery the following night, an experience to which she looks forward eagerly as the curtain falls. Others in the cast included William Taillon and Nancy Haines.

The final presentation of the evening was "Gay Ninety," a hilarious comedy centered around Gramma Bantry (Jane Coffin), who believes that age is but of minor importance when it comes to fun and frolic. Though her domineering daughter (Lorraine Cole) has arranged a small, quiet party to celebrate her ninetyieth birthday, she has plans of her own, which include a helicopter ride under the supervision of her conspiring great-granddaughter (Mary Jasper). Gramma carries out her program, making a perfect crash landing on the front lawn of her own home, much to the alarm and indignation of her doddering friends. Other members of the cast include Deborah Mason, Pamela Perkins, Marjorie Morton, Claire Berry, and Donna Rice.

When the final curtain fell on the class of 1958's Senior Class play, each member of the cast, prop and light authorities, ticket sellers and Mr. Thompson were all satisfied with a job well done, after six weeks of hectic preparation, cramming to learn lines, and impromptu rehearsals.

The play "Holiday for Lovers," by Ronald Alexander, deals with an American family who journeys to Europe to visit a twenty-three year old daughter who was sent to Paris three years previous to study piano. The problems and amusing situations with which they are confronted resulted in a highly amusing two hour's entertainment for the audience.

In the numerous roles of parents, two daughters, a boy friend, an artist, relatives, and maid were Jane Coffin, Alan Ordway, Dawne Christie, Sara Ault, Jon Day, Bill Taillon, Konni Chase, Jim Hill, and Sue Merrill, all performing with great effectiveness and dedication to the task at hand.

Needless to say, this final presentation of the school year, performed on April 25, was enjoyed by all.

Football

With only a few weeks to go before the first game, the candidates for the team were at the athletic field the day before school started on September 2, 1957. At this time the coaches, Mr. Scott, Mr. Kailey, and Mr. "Joe" Roderick, began the job of forming a co-ordinated squad out of the fifty prospects that turned out.

The Gould eleven opened the season by journeying to Bridgton and overpowering them 20-7. Gerry Smith led the team with three touchdowns from 16, 47, and two yards out respectively. The line kept the gains of the opposing team down to a minimum, even though the mercury was hovering around 90° all afternoon. For the extra points, Ted White passed to Al Sumner for one, and Jim Hill rushed the other.

On the following Saturday, even though the opposing team led 12-0 at the half, the team came from behind to down South Paris 18-12 after Hill and Sumner had made long gains with the linemen contributing good blocking. Sparked by a 26 yard pass play from White to Whitten, the Huskies roared down the field with Sumner, Whitten, and Hill going over for touchdowns.

Norway finally came out on top of Gould with a score of 30-19, after a hard-fought game. In the third Gould was ahead 19-14 with Nichols, Sumner and Whitten scoring, but fumbled twice in the fourth, giving Norway the edge.

The next game at Lyndonville, Vermont, was one of the best games played all season by the team. The Gould eleven drew first blood and made the conversion good with fullback Gerry Smith driving through the line for the touchdown and then kicking the extra point. The score at the half was 7-7. Gould was trailing 20-7 in the fourth, and Smith plunged through the line for another touchdown and again kicked the extra point. The Huskies stopped the Lyndon march with only 1 minute 59 seconds to go and ground out the yards until they were only 20 yards away from scoring position when time ran out.

Because of a continuous downpour on Saturday, the game with Berlin was postponed until the following Monday. The Huskies walked away with this one 37-0. Gould netted 92 yards, including two touchdowns, in five out of 10 forward passes. Al Sumner went over for two touchdowns and hurled a scoring pass. Nichols, Smith, and Steve Watson also scored.

For the first time in four years, the Gould Eleven overpowered the Mexico Pintos 7-6 in a thriller-diller. Although Mexico went over early in the game, the touchdown was brought back because of a penalty. The score was 0-0 at the half. Early in the third, Mexico went over for the first touchdown of the game. Bob Butters blocked the crucial extra point. Gould quickly came back in the last of the third, driving 60 yards with Smith finally scoring. The winning point came on a pass from Gallagher to Cummings. The Huskies threatened to score again but fumbled on the 2-yard line. In this game our defensive line tightened up and kept the Mexico yardage down.

In their last game of the season, the Huskies retained their spark by defeating Fryeburg 12-0. In the first half there was no scoring as Fryeburg held strongly. But in the third, Sumner intercepted a pass and raced to the ten; White finally plowed over from the 1-yard line. Soon, Sumner had the ball again and ran over for the second touchdown.

For the seniors, this was the last game they would play for Gould. Those retiring from the Gould spotlight this year include: Bill Black, Bill Gallagher, Guy Whitten, Bob Butters, Bill Taillon, Gerry Smith, Bill Ide, Pete Nichols, Larry Bragg, Paul Murphy, Jim Hill and Captain Al Ordway.

The Blue and Gold squad showed a great deal of spirit and sportsmanship throughout the season by chalking up a 5-2 record.

We wish next year's team, which will be led by Captain-elect Al Sumner, the best of luck for a successful season.

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country

Under the able coaching of Mr. Berry, the twenty man Cross-Country team, comprised mainly of newcomers, did very well this year. For all of September, the team practiced hard. The famous, or infamous, "Farklit" system soon had everyone in top shape.

The first meet, Kennett, continued last year's string of victories since we won, 15-49. Angevine, Grover, Bernier, Newsom, Lincoln and Carter, all of Gould, finished in that order.

The next meet, our only loss, was held at Deering Oaks in Portland. Although Angevine and Grover grabbed the first two places, Portland took the next six and we lost 31-25.

On October 15th the harriers, on their home course, defeated Gorham 20-40. Angevine and Grover finished in their usual positions, followed by Bernier, Carter and Lincoln in 4th, 6th and 7th places respectfully.

On the 22nd Gould got its third victory, 22-23, from Hebron. Angevine and Grover finished first and second. Bernier was third and Carter was seventh.

The State Meet was held at the University of Maine during our first term exams. Angevine, Grover, Bernier, Carter, Lincoln, and Grover went and made a very good showing.

Thus another successful cross-country season at Gould ended. Since a larger percent of the team will be only sophomores next year, Captain-elect Carter and his team should have a very good season. Best of luck to the team!

Baseball

The Gould baseball team, under Coach Bowhay, enjoyed one of its best seasons in recent years, winding up second in the Western Maine Conference with a seven win and three loss record.

Lettermen returning from the 1956 team were Captain Bill Anderson, Fred Feitler, Jack Reid, Russ Patterson, Eldred Rolfe, and Jerry Smith.

Early practice was held, as usual, in the cage; the team had been outside only a few days when they played a practice game with Rumford, and, although they lost the game, they displayed good potential.

The first game was held on April 23 on the Gould field with Norway. The Gouldites unleashed a twelve-hit attack and, combined with good pitching by Bill Anderson, won 16-1.

Three days later, Gould traveled to Dixfield and ran up against a tough team.

Stone held the Huskies to four hits and one run, while the four runs of his team proved to be more than enough.

On April 30, Gould met Mexico at Mexico, and lost a bitterly contested game, which lasted ten innings. Tied 5-5 at the end of nine innings, the game was broken up in the top of the tenth as Gould scored one run. However, in the last of that inning, Mexico came back with two runs, getting the winning one on a perfectly executed squeeze play. Pitching again, Bill Anderson did a good job, but his wildness proved to be the deciding factor.

Gould got back into the win column on May 2 as South Paris visited Bethel for a game that was limited to seven innings because of the wind and cold. The Huskies' big inning was the fifth, as twelve men came to the plate and seven scored, adding those to two scored in the first and five more in the sixth. Al Sumner made his pitching debut in this game and did an excellent job, holding the visitors to seven hits and four runs, allowing a free pass to only one batter.

Fryeburg visited the Gould campus for a non-league game on May 7. Gould picked up an early lead with five runs in the second inning, and they added three more in the sixth; but Fryeburg proved to be too much for the Huskies, as, with Kiesman pitching, they racked up fourteen runs during the course of the game.

Journeying to Norway on May 10 with a two win, two loss league record, Gould found the Norway team a lot tougher than in the previous game; but bunching their scoring into the sixth inning when all four runs crossed the plate, they managed to win, 4-2. Huff, the Norway pitcher, did a good job, but was outdone by Gould's Bill Anderson, who contributed two hits in his own behalf. Also getting two apiece for Gould were Al Sumner and Jerry Smith.

Playing host to a strong Bridgton team, Gould came out on the long end of a 5-4 thriller on May 14. Douglas was the Bridgton pitcher opposing Al Sumner, and both did a fine job, striking out thirteen and Sumner fanning fourteen. Gould picked up four runs in the fourth inning and added the winning tally in the sixth. White scoring on a hit by Sumner. Bridgton scored one run in the seventh and three in the eighth but, with two on base in the ninth inning, lacked the necessary hit.

Coming from behind in the late innings, the Huskies defeated the host team, Norway, 9-5, on May 17. Trailing by two runs at the end of the fifth inning, Gould picked up two runs in the seventh and then broke the tie with four additional scores in the eighth. Bill Anderson pitched a strong game, striking out eleven and walking six, as he picked up his third win.

Bunching four of its nine hits along with three errors in the sixth frame, the Gould team scored all of its six runs to shade Dixfield by one run in a return match on the Gould field, May 21. Eldred Rolfe led the Gould hitting attack with two singles. Having obtained their fifth run in the fourth inning, the Dixfield team did not seriously threaten again throughout the game.

Going to Fryeburg for a 10 a.m. game on Saturday, May 25, Gould piled up eleven runs in the course of the game, scoring the deciding run in the eighth inning. The Huskies scored six runs in the fourth inning, offsetting a 7-4 Fryeburg lead. The hosts threatened in the ninth, scoring two and loading the bases; but Al Sumner, in relief, preserved the game, Gould winning, 11-10. Jim Hill led the hitting attack with a timely triple and two singles.

Holding down second place with a six and two record, Gould traveled to Bridgton, on May 28, where Bridgton High, behind Nel Douglas's five-hit pitching, nosed out Gould, 3-1. Both Douglas and Sumner pitched well, neither hurler walking a man, Douglas fanning thirteen, and Sumner striking out ten.

In the final game of the Western Maine Conference, Gould unloaded against Mexico, defeating them 13-6, for Mexico's only loss of the season. This victory gave Gould second place, leading Dixfield by only one-half game. Jim Hill began the barrage with a home run in the third inning. In the course of the game, Sumner, the winning pitcher, hit a double and a triple, and Smith singled and hit two doubles. Gould tied the score in the fourth inning and led throughout the rest of the game.

In the annual alumni game on June 8, the varsity turned the tables on the former Gouldites, beating them 12-5 in a seven inning game. Among those returning were Phil Rowe, Howie Rolfe, Dick Trimback, Joe Watson, Hi Berry, and Dave Willard.

Earning their letters were Captain Bill Anderson, Jim Hill, Ted White, Jerry Smith, Mel Jodrey, Jack Reid, Eldred Rolfe, Fred Feitler, John Giddings, Terry Russell, Al Sumner, and Linwood Small. Of these, Bill Anderson, Jack Reid, Eldred Rolfe, Fred Feitler, John Giddings, and Terry Russell were seniors.

Jim Hill, the dependable center fielder, was chosen captain for the 1958 team.

Track

In 1957, the Gould Academy thinclads, ably coached by Mr. Roderick and Mr. Scott, found themselves lacking in power in some events; consequently, the team did not enjoy as successful a season as in recent years.

On Saturday, April 27, Gould played host to Stephens High of Rumford on the home field. Although the score remained close throughout the meet, the Huskies, paced by Guy Whitten who swept the hurdles and tied for another first in the high jump, came out on top by a substantial margin. The final scoring was $64\frac{1}{2}$ points for Gould to Rumford's $52\frac{1}{2}$ points.

The following week, Gould traveled to Farmington for their second dual meet. Farmington, possessing very good team balance, defeated the Gouldites for the first time since 1946. Guy Whitten was again the big point man for Gould, sweeping the hurdles and winning the 220 yard dash. Other winners in their events were Jim Murphy in the 440, Pete Nichols in the shot put, and Captain Stevens in the pole vault.

May 11 found Cony High of Augusta at Gould. Although the first place positions were quite evenly divided between the two teams, the depth of the opposition defeated the Huskies as Cony posted their first win in the three year series by a score of 64 to 53. Pete Nichols and Guy Whitten put forth fine performances for the hosts, scoring 12 and 13 points respectively. Richard Grover, Jim Murphy, and Paul Stevens each scored wins.

The next week, Winslow High, this year's state champs, came to Gould. Displaying great power, Winslow, led by star hurdler and jumper Onil Roy, handily defeated the Huskies. Jim Murphy doubled for Gould in the 440 and discus; Pete Nichols and Captain Stevens achieved single wins. The final score was 66½ to 50½.

May 25th found five teams converging upon the Fryeburg Fairgrounds for the Oxford County Track Meet. Under ideal weather conditions for track, a very determined Gould track team, smarting from a string of three straight defeats, proceeded to take over. By displaying surprising depth for the first time this year, the blue and gold thinclads were able to retain their long-held crown. Although everyone gave their all to win, the big men for Gould were Captain Stevens, Guy Whitten, and Jim Murphy, each producing wins in their specialties. Gould, scoring 41½ points, outdistanced their nearest competitor by 6 points, a small but significant margin.

The next week, a small squad of boys went to Colby College in Waterville to compete in the State Track Meet. Faced with very strong opposition, the Gouldites made their weakest showing in years. Only Jim Murphy and Pete Nichols were able to score although everyone competing did his best. Possibly the team would have done better had it not been hampered by injuries. In the latter part of the season, high jumper Mark Freeman suffered a badly-wrenched knee, and hurdler Guy Whitten pulled a leg muscle.

Although this year's team has set no records in the win and loss columns, Captain Stevens and his teammates have worked hard and faithfully retaining the county title and fighting for every point in every meet.

The spring of 1958, with a good nucleus of returning lettermen, under the leadership of Captain-elect Bill Gallagher, Gould has high hopes for a successful season and for regaining its title as state champion.

Winter Sports

Under the fine coaching of Mr. Kailey, this year's ski team was made up of Captain Bill Ide, Al Ordway, Richard Saunders, Holly Cotton, Sam Appleton, Don Angevine, Pete Karpowich, Steve Karpowich, Fred Lincoln, Fred Dallinger, and Bill Black as manager.

The season started off with a meet with Holderness, but due to College Board Examinations, the seniors were not able to attend. The meet was then made a J. V. meet to give some of the newer boys more experience at competition. Gould ended up on the short end of the score, but much experience was gained.

The following week the team took a trip to Lyndonville, Vermont, to enter a three way meet with Lyndon Institute and Stowe. Cross country was run off Friday afternoon with Gould's Don Angevine placing second. The following day down hill, slalom and jumping were scheduled in which Al Ordway took second in the downhill and Jerry Smith won the jumping. Gould came in second being beaten by Lyndon Institute which did a fine job of skiing.

Once again back in Maine, Gould skiers took off to Bridgton and Auburn for the annual Edward Little Carnival. The first two events held at Bridgton were downhill and slalom. After pushing the hickory slats as fast as they could, Gould emerged second at the end of the first day's events. They returned to Gould for a good night's sleep and then off to Auburn for jumping and cross country. Still not able to break Edward Little's lead, Gould ended up second out of the five competing teams.

The next week we were off to race the New Hampshire slopes in the Berlin Carnival. Gould quickly jumped into the lead by winning the downhill and slalom. The next day they were hit with a set back in cross country but still held a narrow lead for first place. Laconia, being right behind, edged Gould out of first to win the meet. The team looked forward to the State Meet the next week.

The 1958 Maine State High School State Meet was run by Edward Little at Bridgton and Auburn. Gould was hampered by only being able to use an eight man team. In all other meets a ten man team had been used. This left two of the events with only four men in them instead of the usual five men in each event. Gould ended up second after the first day's events with Al Ordway, Sam Appleton, Bill Ide, Holly Cotton, and Dick Saunders placing in the first ten of the downhill and slalom. On the second day, Gould had a very poor day in cross country and was edged out of third place by Rumford during the jumping. This left Gould fourth in the state and unable to ski in the New England Ski Meet to be held at Gould the following week.

The Gould team, not being able to run in the New England's fore ran the meet for the other teams. The first day was a cold and windy day, but with the help of the faculty and students, the first two events were run off very well. The next day was warmer and the remainder of the events were run off. At the end of the meet Edward Little came out the victor, with Lyndon Institute second and Kennett third. This ended the team's season, maybe a little heartbroken but with no casualties.

Basketball

This year's basketball team, led by Captain Guy Whitten and forwards Steve Smith and Tim Race, again managed to pull only two games out of fifteen in for wins, although there seemed to be some improvement in ability and spirit as the team, under Coach Brewster and Assistant Coach Auger, gained experience and confidence. Two games were lost by two points and one by three points, proving the Huskies had the potential, but they seemed to lack the final drive to change defeat into victory.

Gould's first four games of the season led to defeat at the hands of Mechanic Falls (60-45), South Paris (57-41), Bridgton (48-38), and Norway (59-33). Captain Whitten had a total of 54 points for these first tussles; Smith had 37, Race 27, and Gallagher and Hill, the starting guards, had 7 apiece.

The Huskies came back to defeat Mexico on their home court (56-40). Whitten, center for Gould, again led the scoring with 16 points. Smith, Race, and Gallagher scored 13, 9, and 7 points respectively.

The next four games proved as unsuccessful as the first four. Gould was beaten by Old Orchard Beach (62-45), trounced by Porter High of Kezar Falls (86-32), and defeated by Farmington (59-41). Bridgton edged the Huskies out of the win column by two slim points, winning 58-56. Race led the scoring honors here with 17 points; Whitten had 14, Smith 12, and Hill 11.

The Huskies final victory came when they beat Norway (44-39). Whitten racked up 20 big points and Race followed with 10. Gould again tasted defeat at the hands of Mechanic Falls (64-44), Mexico (51-58), and South Paris (65-45). The boys lost two thrillers to St. Patrick's (64-62) and Farmington (67-61).

Lettermen for the 1958 season were: Captain Guy Whitten, Bill Gallagher, Jim Hill, Steve Smith, Tim Race, Al Sumner, Paul Murphy, and Manager Bob Allen. Others who made up this year's varsity team included Bob Felt, George Chase, Bob Weston, Pete Wheeler, Ted White, and Larry Cummings.

The J. V.'s flashed through the '57-'58 season under the coaching of Mr. Bowhay, and piled up a very good record of eight wins and three losses. Some of these boys should see considerable action on next year's varsity team.

Athletic Council

The Gould Academy Athletic Council, under the chairmanship of Elwood F. Ireland, has completed eleven years of proficient supervision of the sports program of the school.

The Council includes five permanent members, two ex-officio members, and three elective members. The five permanent members are: Mr. Elwood F. Ireland, Chairman; Mr. Ordell Anderson, Faculty Director of Athletics; Mr. Wilbur Myers, Bursar; Mr. Richmond Roderick, Boys' Physical Education Director; Miss Alice Duffy, Girls' Physical Education Director.

The elective members, having one year terms of office, serving on the 1957-1958 Athletic Council are: Mr. Francis Berry, the head coach elected by the permanent members of the Athletic Council; Alan Ordway, the president of the Student Council; Sara Ault, the president of the Girls' Athletic Association.

The two ex-officio members are: Mr. Leslie Davis, trustee of the school; Mr. Murray Thurston, alumni of the school. These members serve a one year term of office and are elected by the permanent and elective members of the Athletic Council.

The Athletic Council is responsible for estimating budgets and approving all expenditures; authorizing the purchase of athletic equipment; construction of policies pertaining to athletic injuries received by team members; formulating, reviewing, and approving all inter-scholastic athletic schedules; appointing the athletic officials for home games; and approving the awarding of letters to students who have fulfilled the requirements for earning them.

The following boys were awarded letters in 1957:

Basketball:

John Giddings (Captain), Guy Whitten (Captain elect), Fred Feitler, Ted White, Mike Stowell, and Leroy Brown (Manager).

Skiing:

Dick Saunders (Captain), Bill Anderson, Sam Appleton, Keith Brown, Hollister Cotton, Dave Fox, Mel Jodrey, Bill Ide, Alan Ordway, Gerald Smith, and Terry Russell (Manager).

Baseball:

Bill Anderson (Captain), Jim Hill, Ted White, Al Sumner, Jerry Smith, Eldred Rolfe, Fred Feitler, Jack Reid, Melvin Jodrey, John Giddings, Terry Russell, Linwood Small.

Track:

Paul Stevens (Captain), Peter Nichols, James Murphy, Dave Fox, Jere Snell, Richard Grover, Don Angevine, Walter Kittredge, Alan Ordway, Guy Whitten, Steve Smith (Manager).

1958 - Football:

Girls' Physical Education

As the second year of girls' physical education classes under the excellent supervision of Miss Duffy comes to a close, many memories have been stored by one and all.

The fall season, which was blessed with many glorious days of sunshine, started with outdoor classes in both archery and hockey. After many afternoons of hockey practicing, teams of the best players were chosen to participate in a game with Kent's Hill on Parents' Day. This being only our second year of interscholastic sports, the Gould teams made a good showing but lost.

As the days grew colder, the fall sports' equipment was packed away, after which the girls started the winter indoors with volleyball, making up both Blue and Gold and classteams.

This year something new was added to our indoor program — exercises! Each day for the first fifteen minutes of class, these strenuous duties, aided by suggestions taken from Bonnie Pruden, were performed.

Following Christmas vacation, basketball techniques and skills were practiced, after which teams were chosen.

Spring brought again beautiful not-to-be wasted days which took the classes out of doors for softball. A field day with Kents Hill, which proved to be successful, climaxed the season for tennis as well as softball.

The year has been a pleasant one, especially with these daily forty-five minute retreats from worry and work. Our sincere appreciation goes to Miss Duffy who has helped in making the year a good one. Let's hope next year is the same.

Boys' Physical Education

The daily study routine of the Gould boys is broken up by a 45 minute period of physical education. This extensive program is supervised by Mr. "Joe" Roderrick, who manages to keep the period interesting by changing the program as the seasons warrant.

The schedule of a typical fall day for "Joe" might go as follows: In the morning the freshmen and sophomore classes change up and file out of the fieldhouse, preparing for a lap or two around the large oval track and a few calisthenics. After these warm-up exercises, the rest of the period is spent in some strenuous sport such as soccer or touch football. The only difference between the two classes is that the sophomores have to do a few more calisthenics than the freshmen.

In the afternoon the juniors and seniors have more exercises to do. They run two or three laps and, after the roll call, they go through a few simple marching maneuvers and quite an extensive variety of exercises. This leaves them with little time for play, but they enjoy themselves.

In the winter the schedule is changed slightly. The freshmen and sophomores receive instruction in tumbling and are taught the fundamental trampoline bounces. There is also a little supervised wrestling and boxing. After the current basket ball rules and basic plays are learned, number basketball is played.

The juniors and seniors quickly review what they had previously learned in tumbling and on the trampoline. Since their arm muscles are quite well developed by now, they make use of the parallel bars and the two horses. Boxing and wrestling are enjoyed then with an occasional game of number basketball.

"Joe" adds more variety to the classes with an interesting relay race or tug of war. Other contests and games designed to test physical abilities also help to hold everyone's interest.

After the floor has been taken up, the classes are divided into softball teams which have a friendly rivalry for the rest of the year. As soon as the athletic field is fit, "gym" is held out in the open.

In the fall and spring strength tests are conducted to determine one's lung capacity, grip, and arm, leg, and back strength. In this way records are kept which show each boy's development during high school.

All in all, it would be hard to work more into one class than "Joe" has in the last few years.

Alumni - Class of 1957

Seven of our graduates of last year are studying at the University of Maine. They are Brenda Barlow, David Fox, John Giddings, Judith Graffman, James Murphy, Tim Richardson, and Eldred Rolfe.

Donna Bartlett is attending Eastern Academy of Beauty Culture in Bangor.

Elizabeth Stevens is at Farmington State Teachers' College.

Bill Anderson is attending Bates College.

Jere Snell is studying at Colby.

Keith Bennett is at the Maine Vocational Training Institute at South Portland.

Carla Grover is studying at Gorham State Teachers College.

Lorraine Leighton is in nurses' training at the C. M. G. in Lewiston.

Bobbi Cummins is employed at the Maine Savings Bank in Portland, Maine.

Walter Kittredge is employed by Cornwall Wood Products at South Paris, Maine.

Edith Jeannine Rolfe is working in a chain store in Norway, Maine.

Those who were employed at the Bethel Inn during the summer of 1957 are Carol York and Deanna Rugg. Carol is now working in Boston and Deanna is in Florida.

The University of New Hampshire claims a few of last year's class. There we find Nancy Bales, Mary Huffer, Gates Ingram and Geraldine King.

Merrily Appleton and Barbara Leach are attending Colby Junior College.

Nancy Hibbard is at Vermont Jr. in Montpelier, Vermont.

We seem to find many of last year's graduates in Massachusetts. Jane Yeaton and Catherine Carver are attending Lasell Junior College in Auburndale.

June Burris is working at John Hancock in Boston.

Sue Andrews is attending Fisher Junior College in Boston.

Nancy Corkum is attending Burdett College in Boston.

Patsy Elliman is at Smith.

Jeanne Ernst is studying at Simmons.

Elizabeth Murrell is at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts.

Robert Russell is at the Boston School of Practical Art.

Tali Burns is attending Jackson College.

Russell Patterson, Jr. is attending the University of Connecticut.

Walter Beebe is at the Parsons School of Design in New York City.

Stanley Cornwall is at Syracuse University.

Ann Ferris is studying at Lake Erie College.

Dianne Mitchell, Sylvia Cram and Betsy Wood are attending Russell Sage.

Jack Reid is at the University of Rochester.

Ronald Willard is studying at William and Mary College in Virginia.

Diane Amrhein is at the University of Miami.

Lillian Currier is at Northeastern Business College in Portland.

Fred Feitler is attending Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

The armed forces have taken six other members of the class of 1957. In the Army are: Jack Allen, Arthur Mills, Kenneth Nowlin, and Everett Saunders, Jr. The Air Force has claimed the other two, Blaine Mills and Paul Stevens.

Those who are now living at home are Joseph Brenchick, Beverly Soper and David Worcester.

Ann Douglass is married to Eldon Greenleaf; Marjorie Jean Farren is married to James Murphy; and Roberta Bean is married to Edmund Mason.

Myrna Blake is employed at the Packard and Bell Television Company in West Los Angeles, California.

Dennis Robertson is working in Florida; Larry Bean and William Ripley are also working in that state.

Eva Morrill is working in Portland.
